

F. Gilbert Hills State Forest INTERPRETIVE PROGRAM

Foxboro, MA

(508) 543-9084

The Mystery of Dolmen Rock

Sunday, October 30th, 1:00pm to 3:00pm

Take a hike to see our dolmen, a large flat rock perched on three rocks, much like a table. Retired park supervisor Ron Clough will also take us to a number of standing stones, aligned stones, and stone beehives in the area. There are theories to their origins, but they've never been proven for sure!

Space is limited; pre-registration is required. Call (508) 866-2580 x161 to pre-register and get meeting location. Appropriate for adults and children 12+. Please bring water and be prepared to cover about 3 miles of moderate difficulty trails. Rain or shine; dress appropriately. For park information visit <http://www.mass.gov/eea/agencies/dcr/massparks/region-south/f-gilbert-hills-state-forest.html>.

Ron Clough at a standing stone

Coming Event

department of Conservation and Recreation